Editorial

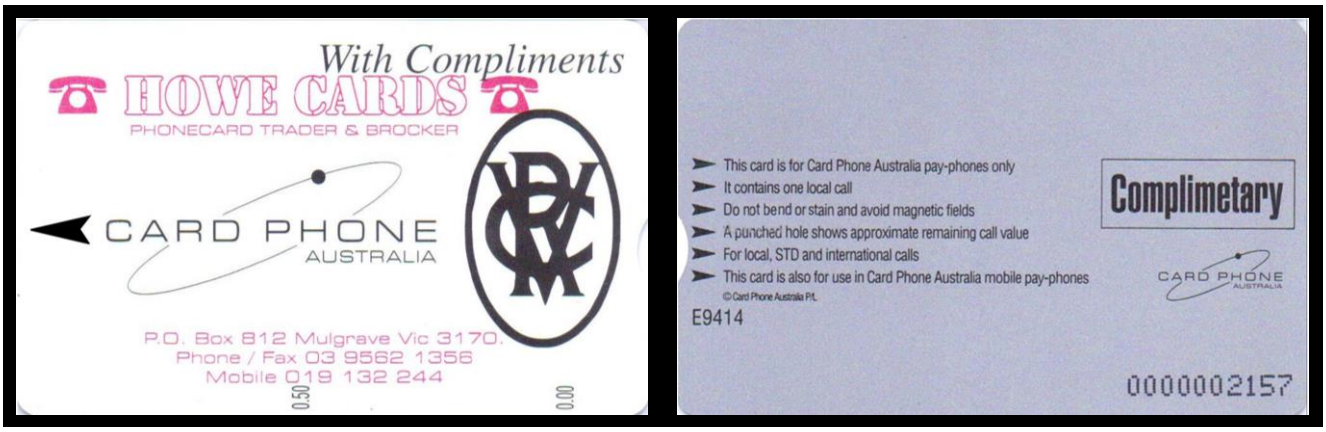

The first article in this Newsletter, on page 2, details what is referred to as an Unknown "Chip Test Card?" even though it does not have a chip mounted in it. Could anyone who knows anything about this card please send what they known to the Editor at his email address at the top of this page, so that it can be shared with other collectors in a future Newsletter?

The second article, starting on page 4, details the two (2) different Types of Tennis Champions Folders and the phonecards included in them. In relation to the phonecards in these folders, the existence of two different varieties of the $2 1997 Telstra Smart Champions – Montage Phonecards, and the inclusion of the $2 1998 Telstra Champions – Leconte Phonecards within the 1998 Champions Tournament folder may come as a surprise to most collectors.

The third article details in depth the two (2) Ken Duncan Panograph Folders and their Phonecards.

On another topic, the Editor has noticed that the MPC Newsletter No. 405, August 2026, front page, has an article on the Howe Cards Overprint on the Card Phone 50c VRC Complimentary Phonecards which states the following; "As information continued to be exchanged through correspondence and telephone conversations, the quantities issued for one of the Cardphone business card overprints were finally confirmed." …. "As a result, there are two recognised variations of the Howe card: 93 cards printed on the $3 Complimentary Card. 7 cards printed on the 50c Complimentary Card (VRC design). The cards sighted range from 0000002142 to 0000002148".

This article was wrong to state that there are ONLY 7 Howe Cards Overprinted Card Phone 50c VRC Complimentary Phonecard, as can be seen from the Serial No. on the sighted Phonecard shown below. It is hoped that appropriate action will be taken to correct this misleading information.

Unknown “Chip Test Card?”

This Unknown “Chip Test Card?” was obtained from a highly respected collector who was given it at an International Stamp Show in Melbourne in 1999 by a Telstra designer that he met over the week-long show. Telstra had a stand with examples of their cards on display and he got to know some of the staff, and over coffee towards the end of the week the Telstra designer offered him some unusual "misprints", one of which was this Unknown “Chip Test Card?”. The only major international stamp exhibition held in Melbourne in 1999 was the Australia 99 World Stamp Expo which was held at the Melbourne Exhibition and Convention Centre from the 19th – 24th of March, 1999. This Exhibition was officially opened by the Governor-General of Australia, Sir William Deane, was run by the Australia Post Philatelic division and had around 100,000 visitors over its six-day duration.

- the $10 Telstra "Sugar Glider" Chip Phonecard with Card Code No. 98010045N,
- the "Coke Test Card?" with Card Code No. 98010045N which was listed in The Great Aussie Phonecard Company – Australian Chip Card Catalogue on, page 3, and
- the Unknown “Chip Test Card?” with Card Code No. 98010045N which has no chip mounted in it.

However, to the Editor, the image on the front of the "Coke Test Card?" looks like it has been made by someone and stuck onto the front of an Unknown "Chip Test Card?".

The Tennis Champions Phonecards and Folders

Background

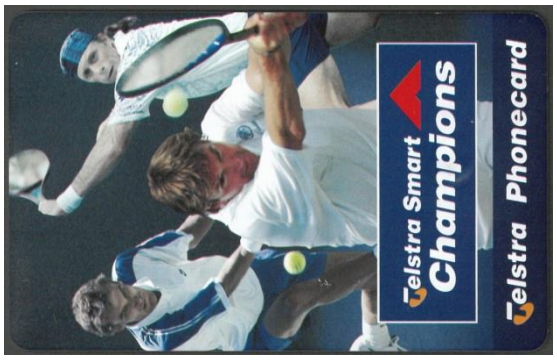

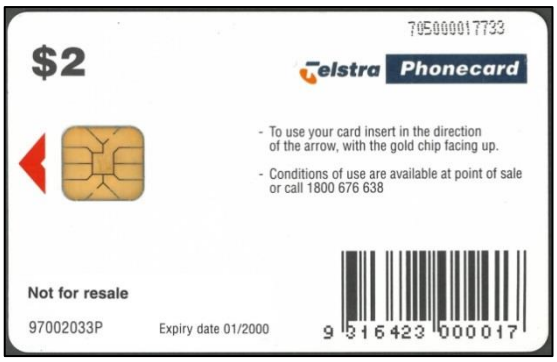

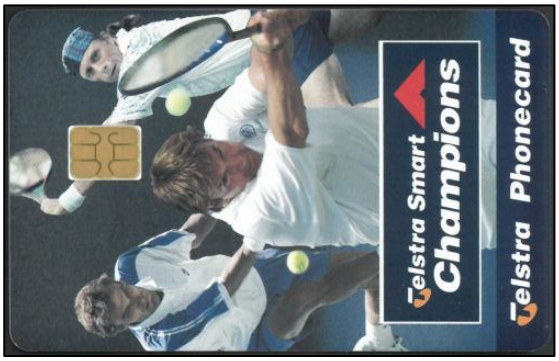

The Tennis Champions; Jimmy Connors, Guillermo Vilas, Mats Wilander, John Fitzgerald and others were schedules to compete in the 1997 Tennis Champions Tournaments held in the Sydney Entertainment Centre from the 11th - 14th December 1997, but Mats Wilander did not play due to illness. All the above named players were featured on five (5) Telstra Phonecards produced for inclusion in the Telstra 1997 Smart Champions Tournament Folders.

The Tennis Champions; John McEnroe, Bjorn Borg, Henri Leconte and Guillermo Vilas and others competed in the Tennis Champions Tournaments held at both the Sydney Entertainment Centre from the 14th - 18th October 1998 and Melbourne Park from the 21st - 25th October 1998, and images of the Tennis Champions were used on four (4) of the five (5) Telstra Phonecards produced for inclusion in the Telstra 1998 Champions Tournament Folders. However, whilst a $2 Henri Leconte Phonecard could ONLY be obtained as a "Telstra Special Offer" for those purchasing a Folder, there was no provision within the Folder in which to mount it.

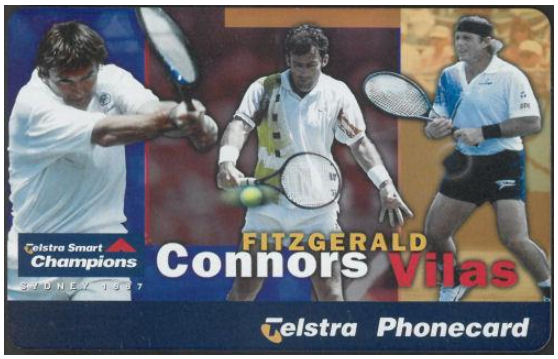

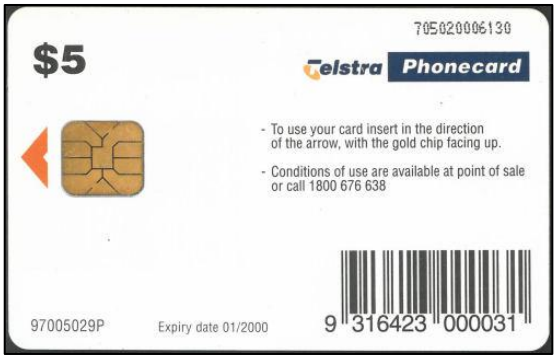

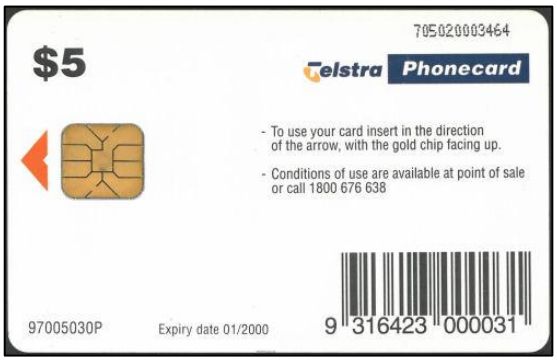

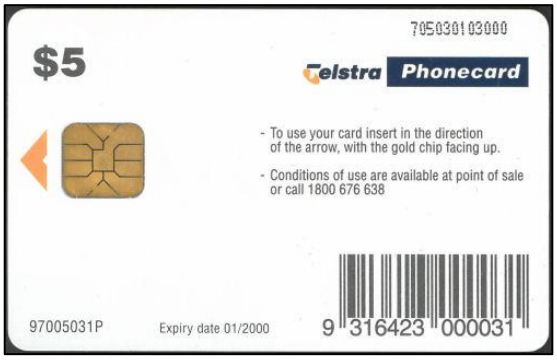

The 1997 Smart Champions Tournament Phonecards and Folders

There were 1,000 of these Folders produced and they had Folder Nos. ranging from 0001 to 1000. They were issued in December 1997, and the Telstra Smart Phonecards included in these Folders are shown below (Refer to Extract 1 on page 22).

These Telstra Smart Champions Phonecards and Folders were also sold during the tournament at the merchandising stand in the Sydney Entertainment Centre (Refer to Telstra advertisement in Extract 2 on page 24)

NOTE: The $2 1997 Telstra Smart Champions – Montage Phonecards were originally Serial Numbered in May 1997. A presently unknown number, less than 500 (i.e. ? < 500), of these Phonecards were rejected, and subsequently reprinted and Serially Numbered in January 1998 after the Smart Champions Tournament had finished. These reprint Phonecards have not yet been sighted listed in any published Smart Phonecard Catalogue or Listing, or even Telstra's Australian Phonecard Bulletin which indicates they are somewhat less common than the original print Phonecards.

Telstra Smart Champions

Jimmy Connors, Mats Wilander, Guillermo Vilas, John Fitzgerald, John Lloyd, Roscoe Tanner, Johan Kriek and Jose Luis Clerc are the world class names in tennis competing in Sydney for the international Champions Tour of 1997.

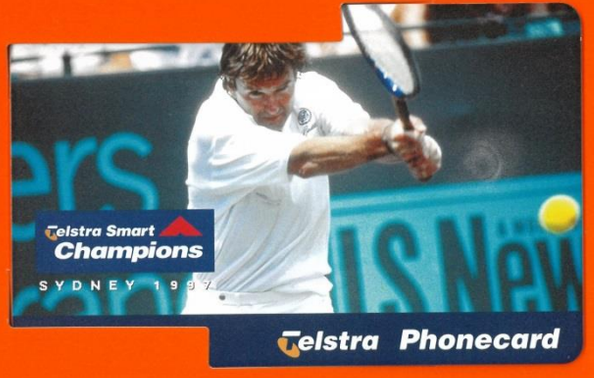

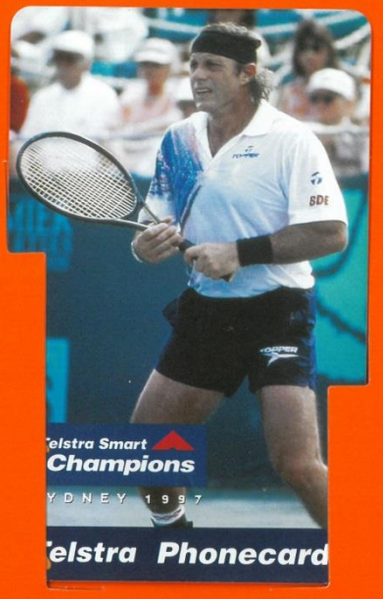

Mats Wilander

Mats Wilander lays claim to seven Grand Slam Singles titles, including three in one year (1988). The three Australian Opens, three French Opens and one US Open highlight a career in which he has amassed 33 ATP Tour and Grand Slam Singles titles.

Australians have a particularly strong affection for the 33 year old Swede for his stirring Davis Cup performance when he won both singles in Sweden's 3-2 loss to Australia at Kooyong in 1986.

Guillermo Vilas

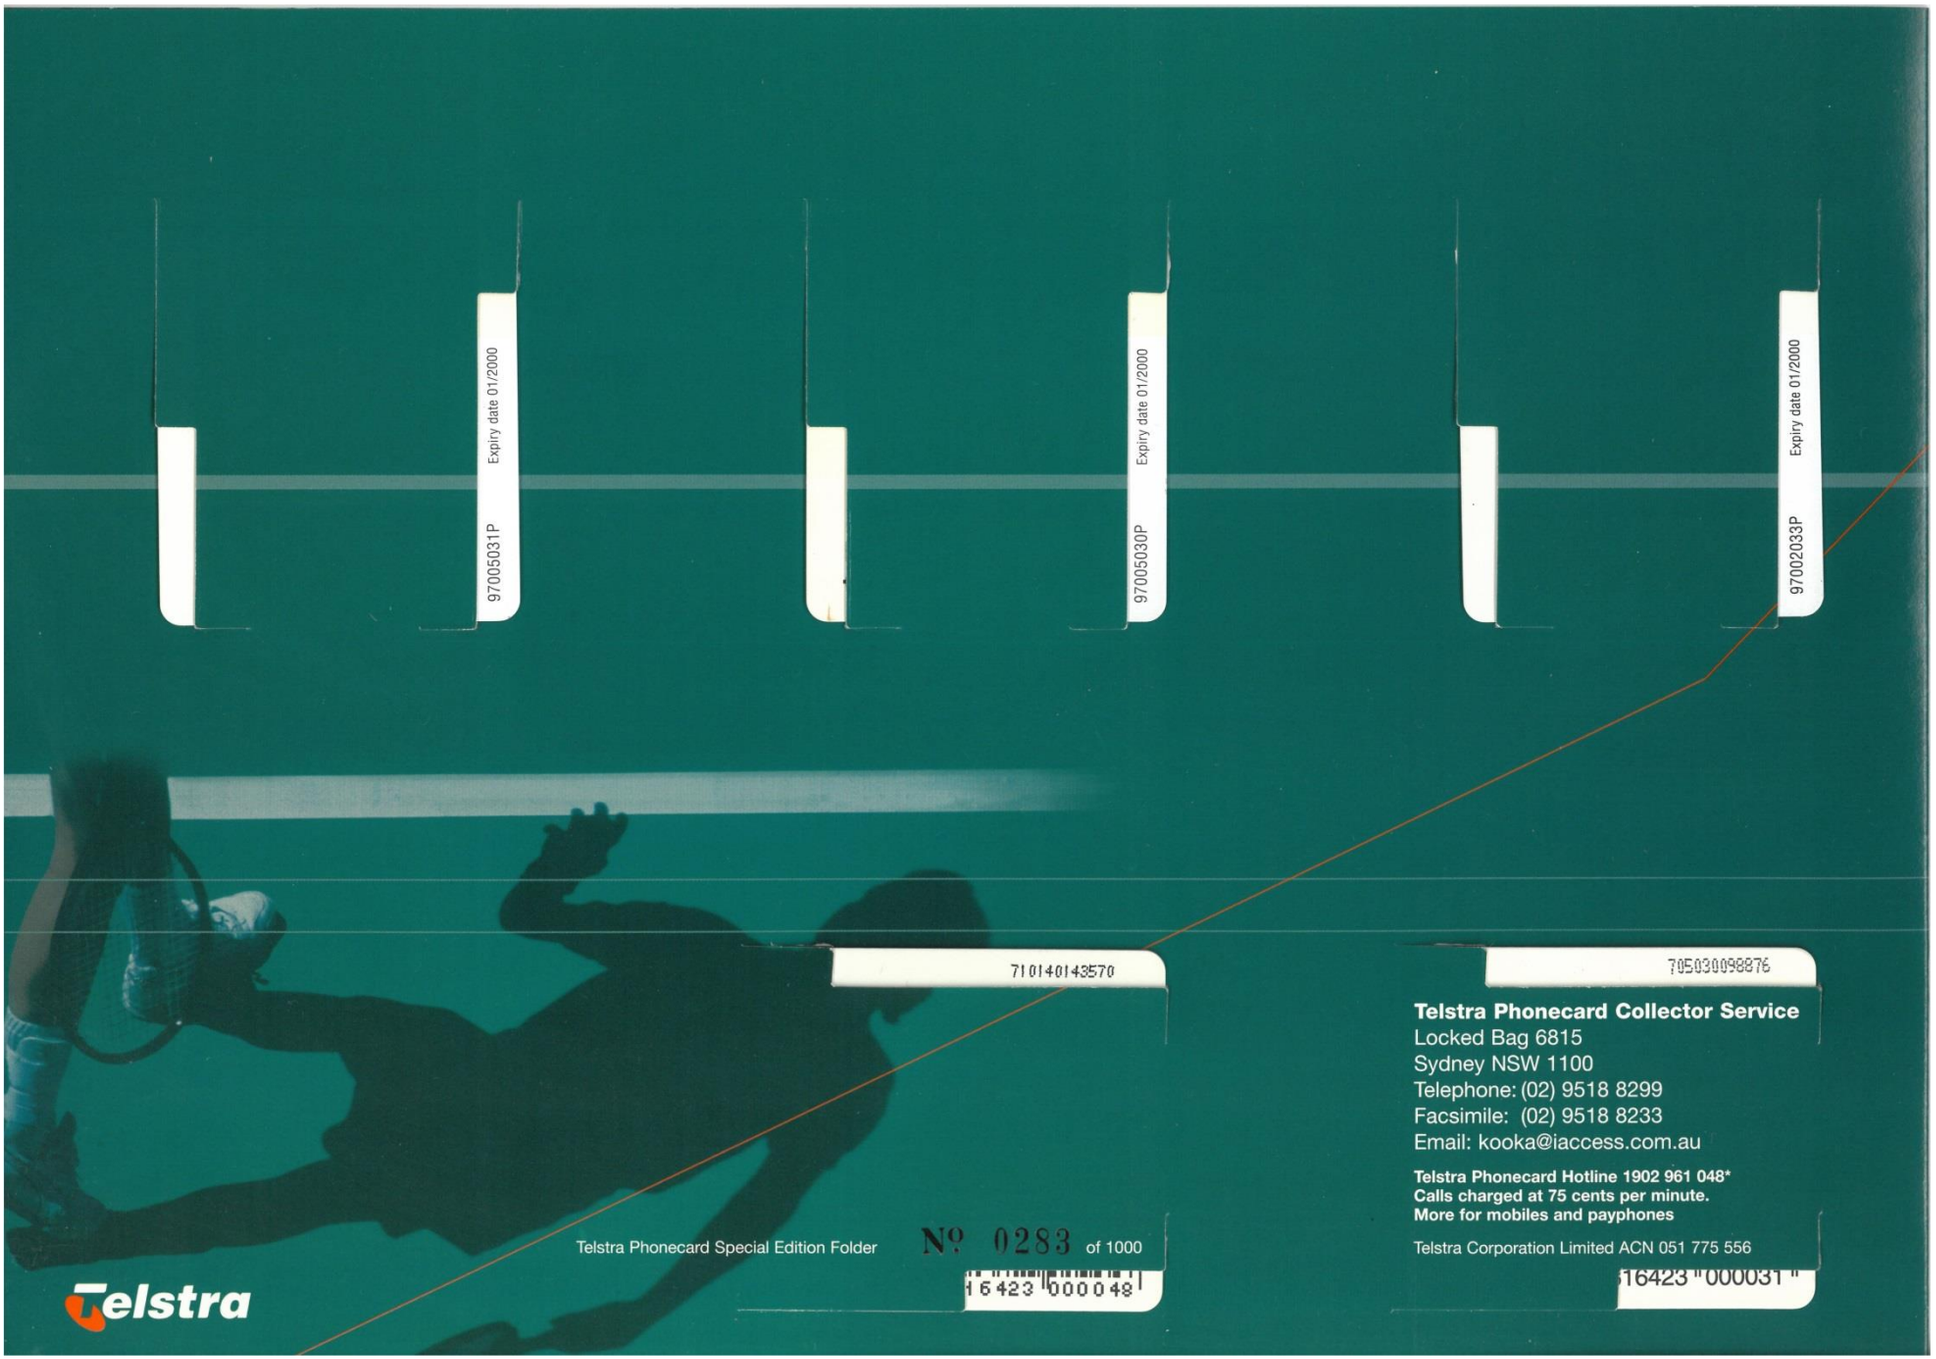

With more than 60 titles to his name, Guillermo Vilas is considered one of the game's most accomplished competitors. With two Australian Opens, two French Opens and a US Open as career highlights, it was 20 years ago Vilas first made his mark. In 1977 he won 17 of the 33 tournaments in which he played, embarking on a 50 match winning streak which continued to Wimbledon the following year. It remains a men's tour record.

Jimmy Connors

After a quarter of a century in the tennis limelight, Jimmy Connors remains at the forefront of his sport. Connors still possesses the skill and competitive edge which earned him 20 Champions Tour titles.

Two decades earlier, the excitement Connors generated helped build tennis' popularity internationally, and for a record 159 consecutive weeks Connors was ranked No.1. With 130 tournament singles titles, including eight Grand Slam Singles and five US Opens, Jimmy, in 1995 was voted by readers of 'Tennis' magazine the most exciting player in 30 years.

MESSAGE FROM THE PREMIER

As Premier of New South Wales, I extend a warm welcome to all international competitors and visitors who have come for the first Sydney Champions Tennis Tournament. I invite all our international stars and visitors to enjoy the many diverse attractions both Sydney and New South Wales have to offer.

Sydney is proud to host the last round of the Champions Tour. This tournament is now recognised as the official seniors' circuit for men's tennis. Both tennis and sport enthusiasts should look forward to the spectacle of these legends of modern tennis in action.

It is incredible that since 1993, when Jimmy Connors and Ray Benton first launched the Champions Tour, the program has grown from 3 to 22 tournaments. This is certainly a credit to the organisers.

I wish all players every success in this tournament.

Bob Carr
Premier of New South Wales

Telstra

Welcome to the Telstra Smart Champions!

We are delighted to be the inaugural sponsor for Australia's own Champions Tour Tournament and to welcome to Australia Jimmy Connors and all the other great names of tennis competing in the Telstra Smart Champions Sydney 1997. The event marks the beginning of an exciting new venture for telecommunications and sport.

Australians are about to discover Smart tennis and Smart technology - a great match.

Telstra's exciting "smart" technology includes the introduction across the country of new state-of-the-art payphones that use Smart Phonecards, replacing the current magnetic strip phonecards with a microchip. This broadens the use of our Telstra phonecard for additional cash purchases that will be offered continually throughout next year, such as vending machines, parking and transport, making life easier and more convenient for everyone. And this is just the beginning!

Telstra is proud to be associated with a sport which is so loved by our sport-loving nation. On one level the Telstra Smart Champions is the result of two great institutions coming together and adapting to the needs of a changing world. On another, more fundamental level, it is about fun, hard fought competition and the constant striving for excellence.

We look forward to sharing with you the excitement and spectacle of the 1997 Telstra Smart Champions.

Panographs® by Ken Duncan

Panographs are a photographic technique developed by Ken Duncan for panoramic landscape photography.

To Ken Duncan, isolation is a familiar place.

As Australia's prominent landscape photographer, Ken Duncan has recorded some of the more remote and extreme places on the continent. During his travels around Australia he uncovered traces of man's exploration into the vast outback.

It is these images which Telstra has assembled for the Ken Duncan Isolation series of phonecards. Quiet, reflective landscapes which reveal the pioneering spirit of Australians.

Ken sees the adventure of 'going bush', as a photographer or explorer, "exciting and liberating...it helps put everything into perspective." He finds the enormity of nature's beauty a humbling experience. Man's creations seem short-lived in comparison to the eternity of the natural world. With his images, Ken Duncan sees himself as an interpreter of God's creations. Recording the scenes for all to admire.

Telstra hopes you enjoy the Ken Duncan Isolation series.

The sweeping expanse of the Australian landscape is captured in Vast Lands, a series of Panographs® by Ken Duncan.

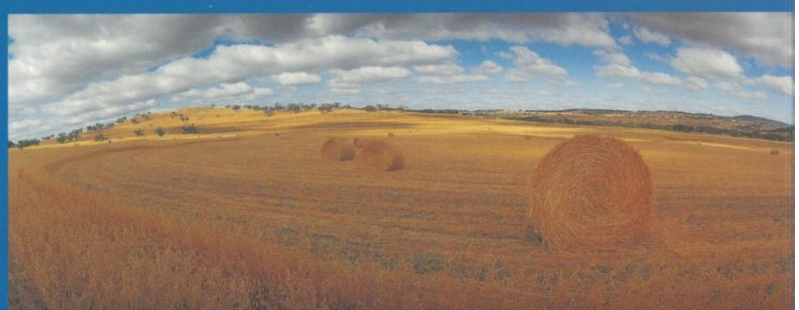

In one shot, a curtain of water from Eliot Creek drops over a rock wall to form Fruit Bat Falls in Queensland. In another, a sea of yellow sunflowers rise to meet the new day in Gunnedah. The rippling waves of sand spill across the dunes in Coffin Bay National Park. Stretching out under a blue sky lie the parched oat fields in Western Australia.

For every shot Ken Duncan waits for the precise moment to record the scene. The colour, light and movement of each location is preserved forever, in all its unadorned beauty.

Vast Lands showcases the rich and varied treasure which lies at our doorstep. Telstra trusts you enjoy the Ken Duncan Vast Lands series.
